

Tata AIG General Insurance Agent Commission Chart 2026 In Table:

Tata AIG General Insurance offers a competitive commission structure to its agents, with attractive earnings opportunities for motor, health, and home insurance products. Understanding the commission structure and taking advantage of Tata AIG's incentive programs can help agents maximize their earnings in 2026. Agents should focus on long-term client retention, cross-selling products, and meeting their sales targets to earn both first-year and renewal commissions.

Here is a detailed commission table for different types of insurance policies:

Insurance Product	First-Year Commission	Renewal Commission	Notes
Motor Insurance
Private Car Insurance	10% to 15% of premium	5% to 7% of renewal premium	Commissions based on car model and coverage
Two-Wheeler Insurance	12% to 18% of premium	6% to 8% of renewal premium	Higher commission for two-wheeler policies
Commercial Vehicle Insurance	8% to 12% of premium	4% to 6% of renewal premium	Lower commission for commercial policies
Health Insurance
Individual Health Insurance	10% to 15% of premium	4% to 6% of renewal premium	Dependent on policy sum insured and coverage
Family Floater Plans	12% to 18% of premium	5% to 7% of renewal premium	Higher commission for family policies
Critical Illness & Top-Up Plans	8% to 12% of premium	3% to 5% of renewal premium	Usually sold as add-ons
Home Insurance
Home Insurance (Individual)	7% to 12% of premium	3% to 5% of renewal premium	Lower premiums result in lower commissions
Contents Insurance (Add-on)	8% to 12% of premium	4% to 6% of renewal premium	Add-ons to home policies
Travel Insurance
Single Trip Policy	10% to 15% of premium	No renewal commission	One-time policies with higher commissions
Multi-Trip Policy	12% to 18% of premium	3% to 5% of renewal premium	Typically sold to frequent travelers
Business Insurance
Commercial Insurance	6% to 10% of	3% to 5% of renewal	Large premiums but lower

Insurance Product	First-Year Commission	Renewal Commission	Notes
(Business)	premium	premium	commission rates